

Welcome to my portfolio

My name is Sylvia Ifeoma Nwokoro and I'm a Designer.

About Me

As you already know my name is Sylvia, and I'm a Wordpress Web designer/Developer and UI designer (yep I'm a double threat). I currently work as a Web designer for a start-up Metaverse company called Hadean.

Working at Hadean has allowed me to expand my coding, design skills as well as my knowledge in the tech and design industry. It has given me the chance to try new things and learn new CMS.

I got into web design during my final year of University. I had so much fun creating an E-learning gaming website for my final year project because I really enjoyed seeing a blank screen turn into an amazing interface. I'm constantly developing my skills and I believe in myself and my work and I know I will continue to make beautiful websites and designs which brings smiles to peoples faces.

Web UI Designer

I've had a passion for designing since secondary school. I loved seeing the end piece of my work after spending hours creating something. I mainly focus on Web UI however when I code the website because I know how it will look on mobile in my head. I really enjoy creating mock-ups and seeing the look and feel of the websites from a design aspect and seeing a blank page come to life.

Heres a few examples of my work.

Wordpress Developer

Wordpress never used to be my strong suit, but working at Hadean has allowed me to improve my php skills and now I am confident with coding fully responsive websites from scratch using Wordpress and VeV (a website CMS).

Hadean is a distributed compute platform for global organisations needing to apply the full force of cross-cloud capability to solve the world's most complex problems. My role as web designer at Hadean includes, developing new websites in Wordpress, creating UI plans in figma which I will code, coding new web pages and landing page templates in Hubspot and Wordpress. I also update content and look after the SEO of both websites.

At Hadan we have 2 websites, our main site hadean.com and our defence website defence.hadean.com. On the hadean.com site everything but the home page was created by me. The defence site was coded entirely by me.

Here are the website links and links to some hubspot landing pages I've created.

Graphic Design

As a side project I got into graphic designs, I took on a few projects such as creating logos and posters. Heres a few examples of my work.
